

MAKING SCAFFOLDING HISTORY WORLD-WIDE

Change is inevitable, but some things should stay the same. The Vanderbilt Mansion — one of the oldest estates near the Hudson river — was given its designation as a National Historic Site by Franklin Delano Roosevelt himself. Layher scaffolding helps make its historic restoration possible with the kind of versatility necessary to give new life while respecting the past. Old and new come together when Layher scaffolding, steel decks, and stairs help preserve classic architecture. Choose Layher when faced with a unique challenge — together, we'll make history.
